

While redeveloping its hospital campus, the CHUSJ undertook the update and enhancement of its infrastructures and audiovisual equipment. Control room refitting, scenographic improvement, new audiovisual and communication technologies for distance education facilities have been completed or are in progress. In a perspective of actualization and standardization, several mandates were granted to create spaces that will thereafter serve as models.

Amphithéâtre Albert-Royer

The Albert-Royer auditorium is designed to accommodate a variety of events including teaching and professional training activities, conferences, congresses and meetings. New audiovisual systems providing multimedia presentation features, interactive annotation, video conferencing, digital signage, online broadcasting (live or recorded) were added.

Amphithéâtre Justine Lacoste-Beaubien

As a state-of-the-art venue, Justine Lacoste-Beaubien auditorium offers motorized devices for projectors and screens to retract quickly and efficiently. Moreover, the room is equipped with a control room system adapted to the stage performances, as well as a matricing and processing system, all essential for lectern controlled multimedia presentations.

With the citizen project « Le Cinéma Céline Dion », the venue offers a comforting environment that suits perfectly its role. Kids and their family members can now enjoy professional movie presentations in the heart of the hospital.

Training. Meeting and video conferencing rooms

Scéno Plus contribution to the project include the design, coordination and integration of infrastructures required for the implementation of teaching, video conferencing, telehealth activities and distance education systems. The rooms and video conferencing systems are used as tools to facilitate consultation, knowledge transfer and therefore maximize the uses of the various services resources and expertise.
